I am a Full-Stack Web Developer based in NYC. I studied software engineering at the Flatiron School. I enjoy building applications that are useful and that can make people's lives easier.

PROJECTS

Carma Park — Parking Spot Sharing app

City Commuters offering a helping hand - a parking spot. Pulling out of a spot? Let other nearby know that the spot is available so they can easily claim it and park freely. Parking does not have to be a frustrating experience if we look out for one another.
